The image displays a large grid of 100 rows and 40 columns, used for cross-stitching. The grid is divided into four vertical sections labeled 200, 210, 220, and 230 at the top and bottom. The rows are labeled 150, 160, 170, 180, and 190 on both the left and right sides. Each cell in the grid contains a small black symbol, such as a cross, a square, a circle, or a triangle, representing a specific stitch or color placement. The symbols are arranged in a complex, repeating pattern that forms a central design. The grid is bordered by a double line.

The image displays a large grid of 100 rows and 40 columns, used for cross-stitching. The grid is organized into four main vertical sections labeled 160, 170, 180, and 190 at the top, and 200, 210, 220, 230, 240, and 250 on the left and right sides. Each cell in the grid contains a small, distinct symbol or character, such as geometric shapes (squares, circles, triangles), letters, and various icons, which serve as a key for the stitching pattern.

The table contains a grid of symbols for cross-stitching. The symbols include various geometric shapes like squares, triangles, and diamonds, as well as letters and numbers. The grid is 10 columns wide and 10 rows high. The symbols are arranged in a pattern that likely forms a specific design when stitched. The numbers 240, 250, 260, 270, and 280 are placed at the corners of the grid to indicate coordinates.
